CHAPTER 2: THE A-Z OF SHELTER-AFRIQUE CREDIT REVIEW PROCESS

Introduction

SHELTER AFRIQUE's credit review is rigorous but quite interactive. Our aim is to ensure that our valuable clients' and the transaction teams engage each other in a way that optimizes both parties' understanding of each other's expectations. Further, we seek to pass to our counterparties, knowledge and experience gathered over the institution's many years in the industry across the continent for mutual benefit.

SHELTER-AFRIQUE's project selection and appraisal procedures and processes are designed to ensure that only technically feasible and financially viable projects are recommended for funding and that developers have the necessary capacity and resources to implement the project and would be credible to honor their obligations under the loan agreement.

The Credit Review Process

. Stage 1: Inclusion of the Project in the Pipeline

There are three levels involved in deciding to include a project in SHELTER-AFRIQUE pipeline. The stages reflect the level of sufficiency of information on the project provided by the developers.

Level 1: Project Enquiries/Ideas

This is where a developer with a piece of land for a housing or related project approaches SHELTER AFRIQUE for necessary information on procedures, project documentation, terms and conditions.

At this stage, an officer is assigned to maintain contact with and provide relevant information to the developers on project preparation and documentation requirements.

For projects that have preliminary information such as location, concept, estimated budget, implementation plan and so on, but feasibility study has not been conducted or there is need for additional information, an officer is assigned to review the information provided and advise whether the proposal will be eligible for financing and outline any further actions and information needed from the developer to progress the project to the next stage. Projects at this stage could be included in the pipeline under active consideration and records of all documents received are kept.

Level 2: Project Brief (PB)

This is a one page document comprising two parts: the description of the project and the sponsor on one hand and the justification to finance the project on the other hand. The PB is prepared by the Investment Officer, cleared by the direct supervisor for transmission to the Head of Department (HOD). The HOD reviews the PB and makes written comments to be transmitted to MD.

Only the MD or any officer so designated can give the final approval of the PB to be integrated into the pipeline of projects and work programme. Once the Project Brief is approved by the Managing Director, the Investment Officer sends the Borrower Information Summary to the Risk and Compliance Department for the latter to commence its "Know-Your-Customer" (KYC) procedures

Level 3: Projects with Complete Documentation/Information

For projects with full feasibility reports and proposals, and where all the relevant information including technical, legal and financial information is available, such projects will be analyzed in details by the responsible officer and a Project Brief concluded for inclusion in SHELTER AFRIQUE's pipeline and work program.

. Stage 2: The Project Information Summary

Upon approval of a Project Brief by the Managing Director, the Investment Officer proceeds to carry out what we call The Project Information Summary (PIS). This is an in-depth desktop review of all information submitted including testing and taking a view on the financial feasibility, the technical feasibility, the legal viability and the alignment of the project with SHELTER AFRIQUE's own investment criteria.

The PIS is prepared by the Investment Officer and receives input from the Legal Department, the Project Management Department, the Risk and Compliance Department and the Finance Department of the company. Each of these departments contributes on relevant aspects of the project. For instance, the Legal Department will give a Legal opinion on the land title documents as well as the company's constitution and corporate governance while the Project Management Department will advise on the project's technical viability e.g. the adequacy of the project cost estimates, approval of the project drawings by relevant authorities, the capacity of the proposed implementation technical team e.t.c. Risk and Compliance Department will carry out an independent check on our borrower as part of "Know-Your-Customer" procedures. The team will also give an opinion on the Risk Rating of the transaction.

Risk and Compliance Department collects all the feedback from relevant departments and issues a Risk Opinion with appropriate recommendations to the Managing Director who grants the final decision.

The Indicative Offer Letter

If the Project Information Summary is approved, SHELTER AFRIQUE informs potential Borrowers/Developers of its intention to proceed to the Appraisal Stage of the project and the indicative terms and conditions under which the appraisal will be conducted.

The Borrower indicates acceptance of the indicative offer letter by paying the Appraisal Fees and the Deposit Fees as may be indicated in the Indicative Term Sheet.

Any project in the pipeline should however, reach the implementation stage within two years of identification; otherwise it shall be dropped from the pipeline.

. Stage 3: Project Appraisal/The Appraisal Report

The Project Appraisal Process involves onsite review and evaluation of all information provided to SHELTER AFRIQUE by the Developer/Borrower. It is in most cases carried out by SHELTER AFRIQUE staff and includes but not limited to technical and cost evaluation, assessment of the credibility and capacity of the developer to implement the project, financial, marketing and risk analysis as well as the overall context in which the project is being implemented.

The appraisal process may however be carried out by a consultant familiar with SHELTER AFRIQUE procedures and with the approval of the Managing Director.

The resultant Appraisal Report is examined at two levels:

The Working Group

This is a peer review group comprising of members from the Legal, Project Management, Finance and Risk and Compliance Departments.

Members of the Working Group provide a critical examination of the Appraisal Report both in substance and in form. All technical, social-economic, financial, marketing and legal aspects of the project are examined to ensure that they conform to existing policies.

The Loans Committee

The Working Group determines whether the Appraisal Report is admissible for presentation to the Loans Committee.

The Loans Committee under the chairmanship of the Managing Director meets to mainly to examine policy issues such as project eligibility, proposed loan amount, pricing, terms and conditions, country commitments and limits, risks' pricing and mitigation.

With regards to risks pricing and mitigation, the Loans Committee receives a report from the Risk and Compliance Head on the level of risks assumed and whether the risks have been adequately priced and mitigated/hedged.

The Loans Committee makes a decision whether or not to submit the loan proposal to the Board of Directors. It could also recommend any further actions to be taken to improve any aspects of the project, including scope, loan amount, pricing and tenor.

Where applicable, the Loans Committee shall consider and approve loans as authorized by the Board of Directors.

. Stage 4: Board Consideration and Approval

All Appraisal Reports cleared by the Loans Committee are presented to the Board of Directors for consideration and approval.

Where the Board of Directors makes any changes to Management's recommendations on any loan, the Borrower is informed and invited for further negotiations on the new terms.

. Stage 5: Final Offer Letter

SHELTER AFRIQUE informs borrowers of the decision of the Board of Directors through a Letter of Offer stating all the terms and conditions of the Loan as approved by the Board of Directors.

The Letter of Offer is sent together with the draft loan agreement and any other documents that would enable the borrower to give its final acceptance of the loan and signing of the Loan Agreement.

. Stage 6: Execution of the Loan Agreement

Where the Board of Directors approves the loan without any major changes to the terms and conditions negotiated with the Borrower, the Loan Offer should be accepted within 30 days while the Loan Agreement should be signed within 90 days of loan approval. Further, project implementation should start not later than 180 days after approval.

A re-appraisal or cancellation may be considered where project implementation is delayed beyond 180 days and there is a likelihood of material changes in the information obtained at appraisal.

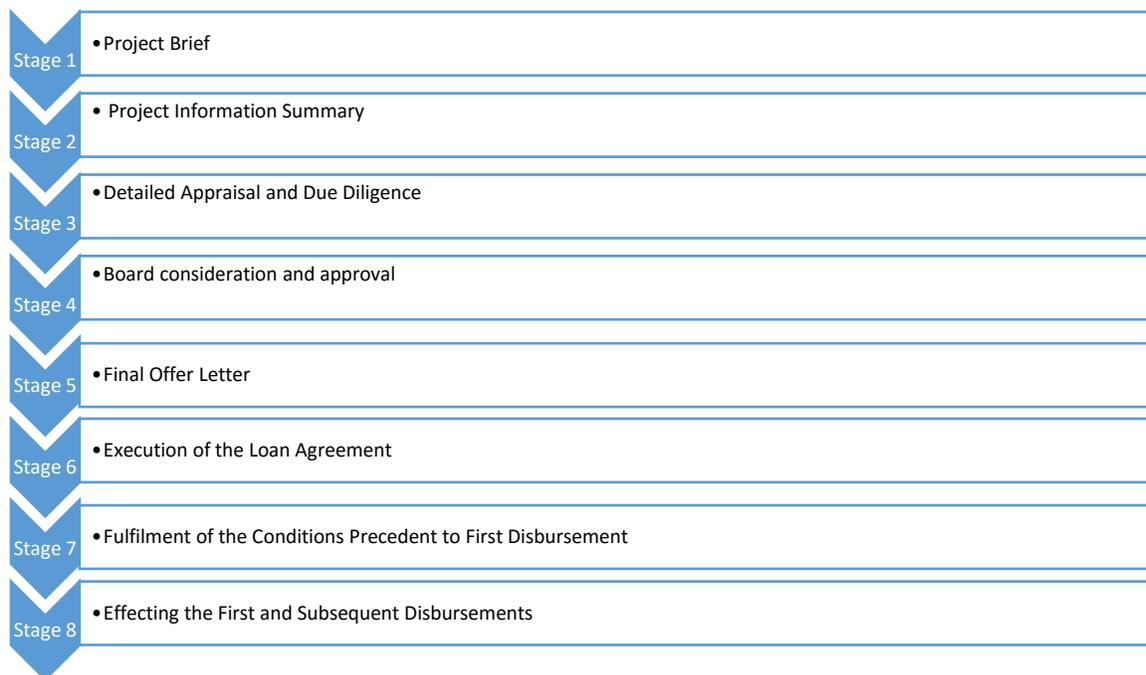

. Stage 7: Fulfillment of Conditions Precedent to First Disbursement

Upon execution of the Loan Agreement, the Borrower proceeds to fulfill all the conditions set as precedent to First Disbursement. These may include but not limited to perfection of all collateral agreed upon as security to the facility, establishment of Escrow Accounts e.t.c.

. Stage 8: First and Subsequent Disbursement

Upon fulfillment of all Conditions Precedent to first disbursement, the Borrower makes application for first disbursement in the prescribed format. The application is reviewed and disbursements to the project commence. All subsequent disbursements thereafter follow the pre-agreed implementation program.

. The Process in Summary

Other Underwriting Considerations by SHELTER AFRIQUE – QUICK NOTES

RISK BASED PRICING

SHELTER AFRIQUE recognizes that investment is all about risks and returns. Any risk assumed must be adequately priced, enhanced, diversified and/or transferred to a better risk-bearing entity

All projects are classified according to their overall risk rating – Low Risk, Medium Risk and High Risk

Projects are structured to an acceptable level of risk based on the significance of the risks and credit elements of the borrower. Only those rated at Medium or Low Risk will be recommended to the Board or Loans Committee

Projects rated as high risk may be considered for financing if proper and solid justification is availed, credit enhancement included and pricing adjusted accordingly to accommodate the high risk level.

The risk level and credit rating determines the final pricing of the loan

COMMON RISKS INHERENT IN REAL ESTATE PROJECT FINANCING

Whereas any real estate project is unique in its own right, there are a number of risks that cut across all projects and that any investor (including the sponsor) ought to evaluate before making an investment decision. While this Handbook may not give an exhaustive list of potential risks, attempt is made to highlight just a few hereunder:

Credit Risk

This is the risk that the borrower will not be able to repay his debt obligations as and when they fall due.

. SECURITY

CHAPTER 4: BASICS OF OUR APPROACH TO PROJECT FINANCING

Introduction

This chapter seeks to highlight what SHELTER AFRIQUE considers as a complete Project Budget, how the said project budget is funded and the recognition of any investment by the developer prior to approaching SHELTER AFRIQUE for funding.

The Project Budget

The table below highlights a typical project budget:

Cost Component	Amount [STATE CURRENCY]	Guiding Remarks
Land costs		Cost price or Forced Sale Value (FSV) upon valuation by a registered and accredited valuer
Preliminary costs		Costs incurred to prepare project designs, bills of quantities, marketing study, development approvals including the EPA certificate e.t.c.
Construction costs		These are strictly defined by the Bills of Quantities
Infrastructure costs
Professional fees		This will be according to the agreed contractual fees with the building consultants namely Project Manager, Quantity Surveyor, Architect, Engineers and the Environmental Consultants.
Administration costs		This will be part of the administrative expenses to be incurred in monitoring and making the project successful e.g. office costs, stationery, overhead expenditure apportioned etc. These should be reasonably assumed based on past experience
Marketing costs		The agreed marketing expenses. Typically, they add up to approximately 2% of the expected revenues. Relevant assumptions in arriving at the amount should be stated
Legal fees		These are the legal expenses to both the Borrower's Lawyer and Shelter Afrique external lawyers who will handle the security perfection and other aspects of the transaction.

Financial charges		The financial charges incurred during the grace period including both the fees & interest expenses during implementation.
Contingency Provision		This amount is provided for to cater for any cost variations in this budget. The guiding indicator is usually the prevailing inflation rate in the country
Total Project Costs		SHELTER AFRIQUE finances a maximum of 80% of this amount. The funds only go towards the construction costs, infrastructure cost, marketing costs and in some instances [especially where Marketing Risk is fully mitigated by availability of Guaranteed Off takers], some of the financial charges during implementation.

The Project Financing Plan

After arriving at the Project Budget as per the table above, the financing plan is

Who is Funding/Sources of Funding	Amount [STATE CURRENCY]	%
Shelter Afrique (debt financing)	XXX	Maximum of 80%
The Developer's Equity	XXX	Minimum of 20%
Total Sources of Funds¹		100%

derived as follows:

Table 3: Typical Financing Plan

Treatment of Equity Invested Prior to Application

It is expected that, by the time a developer approaches SHELTER AFRIQUE for funding, some cash expenditure must have been incurred, for instance, to purchase land, preliminary expenses e.t.c.

¹ Should be equal to the Total Project Costs in the Project Budget Table

It is helpful for the developer to disclose such expenses for recognition as part of the developer's equity contribution. The table below provides a framework for such disclosure:

	Developer's Contribution (A) [As per Financing Plan]	Invested To Date (B) [Provide Evidence]	Percentage B/A	Balance A-B
Land
Preliminary Expenses
Construction Costs
Infrastructure Costs
Professional Fees
Administration Costs
Marketing Costs
Legal Fees
Financial Charges
Contingency Provision
Total

It is worth noting that, all the figures disclosed above must be the developer's own risk in the project. Any amount spent on any budget lines above and coming from PRESALES PROCEEDS or any other source e.g. debt shall not be considered as Developer's Equity. The objective is to ensure that the developer has a financial stake and commitment in the project

Cashflow Analysis

Real estate investments are all about making decisions today, based on expected future cashflows.

It is therefore necessary to subject the expected future cashflows to conventional investment decision making criteria.

At SHELTER AFRIQUE, we adopt the Net Present Value (NPV) and the Internal Rate of Return (IRR) decision making criteria. The objective is to admit only projects that have positive NPV and IRR that is above the project's cost of funds into our work program.

SHELTER AFRIQUE further subjects the cashflows to a SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS, to test the resilience of the project's cashflows against potential adverse shocks such as increase in construction costs, decline in selling prices e.t.c.

The table below shows a generic cashflow format

	2016	2016	2017	2017	2017	2017	TOTAL

CHAPTER 5: MONEY MATTERS – PRICING FRAMEWORK AND APPLICABLE FEES

Introduction

The objective of this section is to introduce readers to the pricing methodology adopted by SHELTER AFRIQUE as well as applicable fees to SHELTER AFRIQUE's transactions.

The Pricing Framework

SHELTER AFRIQUE endeavors to raise funds from different sources with a view to obtaining the best price so that it can pass the same price benefits to potential buyers.

Our ultimate interest rate is derived in a “cost-plus margin” model and is therefore a function of a number of variables including:

SHELTER AFRIQUE cost of funds

Return desired by SHELTER AFRIQUE

Repayment Period [Tenor Premium]

The risk assumed on a transaction-by-transaction basis [Risk Premium]

A dedicated Treasury Unit is tasked with the responsibility of determination of and advising the business on variables 1-3 above while variable 4 is ascertained on a case-by-case basis as each transaction risks are determined.

Applicable Fees

SHELTER AFRIQUE has designed specific fees to be collected with regard to each transaction. The table below highlights the relevant fees, the quantum and the applicable payment date.
